

What are the potential benefits and opportunities to your business?

- ♣ Recognition as an environmentally friendly company
- ★ Assistance to tap existing resources for developing new environmental and biodiversity schemes
- ↓ Increased efficiency and reduced costs
- ♣ Improved business environments for staff, customers and local wildlife
- ♣ Team building for staff
- ♣ A chance to put something back into the local community
- ★ Publicity for the business through the Local and National Biodiversity networks

Following are some more case studies and examples relating to each of these benefits and opportunities.

Recognition as an environmentally friendly company

By addressing activities that impact on biodiversity with practical solutions, you can demonstrate your environmental commitment to both regulating agencies, and the community who uses your services or purchases your products.

